Love life need a boost? Look under the bed.

There are plenty of simple ways to put feng shui to work in your life. For instance, to enhance romance, survey your bedroom with an eye to removing clutter. The space under your bed may be handy for gift wrap and extra shoes, but storing things there inhibits the flow of chi energy and could be hampering your romantic efforts.

Customer Testimonial

"The first day we listed our house, Harrah suggested putting a copy of the listing in the wealth corner of the house where we would see it each morning and evening, sign it and write "sold" on it. Only four days later we received, not just an offer, but an offer we could move with. Now, that's something to smile about."
